"Nov. 7th, is General Election Day, giving all voters in Virginia, especially Conservatives and Democratic believers in State Government, the opportunity to give their final approval to the Democratic Conservatives nominated in the July Primary: Hon. "If you know of any one who should or wants to vote, by mail, please let some of our regular absentee or mail ballot workers know right away. Go early in the day, carry your friends with you, and help give the Democratic nominees a big vote. They will appreciate it.

WHEAT DIVERSION

Farmers who divert more than the minimum 10 per cent of their acreage to conservation uses under the 1962 wheat stabilization program will not lose wheat acreage history by such action, W. D. Hix, III, Chairman, Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today. His statement was issued in an attempt to clear up any possible misunderstanding of program provisions by farmers.

The Chairman explained that the wheat stabilization program provides that full history credit be given producers on all the acreage they divert under the program. This history credit will apply in the establishment of all future farm, county, and State wheat allotments. A similar provision now applies to wheat acreage history on farms retired under the Conservation Reserve Program.

The 1962 allotments sent to wheat producers by county ASCS offices before the recent marketing quota referendum reflected a 10 per cent diversion in wheat acreage. This diverted acreage will be, devoted to approved conservation uses, for which payments will be made to offset income loss during the period of adjusting production to needs. Cooperators may divert additional wheat acreage under the program and receive larger payments. Any wheat acreage diverted under the program must be in addition to the normal conserving acreage on the farm.

Mr. Hix further pointed out that in 1962, as in the past, producers who do not comply with their allotments will be subject to marketing quota penalties on their excess production and also to loss of acreage history, which will result in reduction of their future allotments. Marketing quota penalties were increased by Congress, for the 1962 wheat crop.

Farmers who comply with the wheat stabilization program will be eligible to receive price support on their 1962 wheat crop as well as payments for the diverted acreage.

BARLEY FEED - GRAIN SIGN-UP ANNOUNCED

The signup of farmers in the 1962 feed grain program for barley is now underway in Appomattox County, according to W. D Hix III, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Notices of the barley base acreages, yields, and payment rates were mailed to all farmers on October 12, 1961. To be eligible for price support, 1962 barley growers must divert part of their barley acreage to conservation uses. Producers who have no farm barley base will not be eligible for price support on their 1962 crop.

The program provides for payment to producers who divert acreage from barley production to conserving uses. The smallest number of acres that will qualify a farm as participating in the program is 20 per cent of the barley base.

The average county rate of $18.70 per acre for reducing 1962 barley acreage a minimum of 20 per cent below the farm barley base. Individual farm rates may be higher or lower, depending on the farm's productivity in relation to the county average.

The advance payments for diversion may be made in cash to producers soon after they sign up.

The largest number of acres that can be diverted from barley production to conserving uses for payment is 40 percent of the base, or 70 acres plus 20 per cent of the base, whichever is larger.

PIG RATIONS STUDIED BY RESEARCHERS AT VPI

Pigs apparently need high quality protein feeds to make efficient gains, but not to produce meat of high quality.

In studies at Virginia Polytechnic Institute pig rations made up of proteins which were low in an essential amino acid (lysine) were fed to hogs to find the effect this ration may have on protein quality of the meat.

Meat from test hogs was fed to laboratory animals, to determine its quality of growth-promoting ability. Rats fed six weeks on a ration of pork from hogs fed poor quality protein grew well and maintained a positive nitrogen balance, reports Animal Husbandman Dr. R. F. Kelly.

He says, "While definite conclusion cannot be made at this time, it appears that the pig will produce a high quality protein meat even though its ration is limited in an essential amino acid."

TO IMPROVE ROUTE

RICHMOND—Plans for four-laning a section of US 360 west of Richmond moved forward today with the announcement by the State Highway Department of a public hearing November 15 to consider a proposed new road east and north of Amelia.

The hearing, scheduled in accordance with the 1956 federal aid highway act, will be conducted by Highway Department engineers beginning at 10:00 A. M. in the Amelia County court house.

Tentative plans call for sections of four new lanes and two parallel lanes to divide seven miles of US 360 from Route 153 to a half mile west of Amelia, passing north of Amelia.

Dual laning of this section and a section of about five miles in Chesterfield County east of the Appomattox River, for which plans also are being made, will provide a four-lane road from Richmond to Amelia.

There is currently no money available for construction, but Assistant Chief Engineer D. B. Fuqua said the Highway Commission has indicated the intention of continuing the dual laning of Route 360 west of Richmond as rapidly as funds will permit.

A transcript of the entire proceedings of the hearing will be studied before a final decision is made by the State Highway Commission on the proposed work. After the decision, final surveys and plans will be made, in preparation for the advertisement of bids when funds are available.

APPLE HARVEST TIME

The crispness and color of fall has been condensed into the juicy, tasty flavor of Virginia apples, says Fred Dreiling, horticulturist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The present harvest season is the time for virginians to stock up on homegrown apples, he says. More and more consumers are traveling to orchards for bushels of their favorite variety.

For those outside the apple producing areas, Dreiling advises a trip to the local store. Be sure to keep apples in a cool place, but protect them from freezing.

Stored apples will shrivel as air removes moisture. An occasional soaking in water will prevent much of this shriveling.

Much of this year's crop will be held in cold storages around the state. Virginia has one of the largest cold storage industries in the world, says Dreiling.

Some of the best apple varieties are grown in the Old Dominion and they are quite versatile in their usage. Red Delicious is recommended for eating and use in salads.

Golden Delicious are fine for eating, for apple pies, and making apple sauce. For additional information on apples, Dreiling suggests writing your county agent for a copy of Bulletin 231, "Apples Around the Clock."

McLean House Closed 2 Weeks

It was announced today that the restored historic McLean House at Old Appomattox Court House would be closed October 30 through Nov. 10, for repairs and a job of cleaning drapes, curtains, etc. Painting will be done, floors waxed, and a new rug installed. A formal reopening is scheduled for Nov. 12.

Improvement Program Set at Holliday Lake

Several projects of improvement are in the offing for Holliday Lake, George A. Joly, foreman at the lake for the commission recreational area, detailed some of the plans this week.

An enlarged parking facility will be provided. The enlarged area will take care of up to 60 additional automobiles. Gravel driveways will be provided. There were several occasions this past season, when the parking facilities were, or ex-taxed, and such arrangements are being made for more parking space.

Next, a new policy will provide campsite facilities. A site 2 of a mile from the lake will be bulldozed over, with space for 16 camp sites. Arrangements will provide outdoor fireplaces and also for picnic tables. Sanitary and water facilities will be available. This project is scheduled to be ready by June 1, 1962.

Lastly, a major project at the lake, will be draining and restocking of fish in the lake itself. This is a major project. Fish now in the lake will be saved, and additional fish added to the stock as required. State commissions are aiding in all of the projects.

Holliday Lake is one of the major recreational areas in Central Virginia. The area is located about 12 miles from Appomattox, off Route 24.
